Getting to the Roots of My Family Tree

Recording your family tree can be lots of fun! Use the table below to identify who your ancestors are, when they lived, and where they were born. You can include other interesting things about them in the column labeled “Other information.” Try to find photographs of these people too.

How do you get started? Ask your parents, brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles and grandparents to help you with this activity. They might be able to give you lots of good information. Have fun!

 Use another sheet of paper if you would like to record information about other relatives.

1. Were any of your ancestors born somewhere other than Minnesota? Identify the states and/or countries from which they came:

2. Using a globe or a map of the world, find the places where your ancestors were born. Draw and label those places in the space provided below (use extra paper if needed).
